

D Home Magazine

The 2009 Dallas Restaurant Design Awards

The D Home editors found the prettiest particulars in restaurants all around town. Forget the food. This is all about the most delightful dining details. by the D Home editors

November 2009

Best Silverware

Dining at Hôtel St. Germain is a lesson in elegance. Just as the men don ties and jackets, the tables are dressed in their finest. The linen tablecloths, antique Limoges china, and crystal wine glasses set the scene perfectly, but what really pulls it all together is the antique silverware. The establishment's vast collection, which was two decades in the making, includes nearly a thousand pieces in more than 30 patterns. The flatware is so beautiful, you just might be inspired to start a collection of your own.